

NARRATIVE

V1 was westbound on Point White Dr. NE. The driver said he left the roadway on his right side (north). He wasn't sure why, but he said he wasn't paying attention as the road curved slightly left. At the driveway of 4441 Point White Dr. NE, his tires left the roadway. V1 struck a utility pole and a wooden 4x4 street sign (warning of curves in the road).

V1 continued ahead into a ditch connected to a wetland area. The driver was in about one to two feet of water, but did not require aid. He had left the scene with friends, so he could dry and warm himself before he returned. He requested a tow truck deliver the motorcycle to his residence. Because of the muck on the motorcycle, it was difficult to see how much damage was sustained (other than a cracked wind screen and passenger side mirror). The driver of V1 was cited for inattentive driving.
